AGREE ON EDUCATIONAL BILL

DEMOCRATS ARE TO FIGHT THE TAX BILL AS FAVORING WEALTH

CHARGE PENDING MEASURE WILL PLACE MOST OF BURDEN ON POOR CLASSES.

POLITICS GOING TO PLAY A PART IN THE FUTURE

Expect Plan of War Debt Payment Will Be Chief Issue For a Number of Years.

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the Wichita Daily Times

WASHINGTON, Aug 15—From the beginning of next week until the time congress takes a recess will be a field day for the democrats in the lower house The republican tax bill will probably be introduced next Monday and from then on the entire time of congress until it adjourns will be given to debating that measure

The democrats will be very much "on the job They regard this as their opportunity They believe that the principal political issue in this country between the two parties for 10 to 20 years to come, stated in the broadest terms will be how to pay the war debts This broad subject includes of course not only taxation but also everything of a fiscal nature that the government does The democrats recall that for more than 15 years after the civil war the principal political contests in the country hung around this issue Indeed if the free silver controversy be included the period was 30 years

The democrats count confidentially on history repeating itself and they propose to take every advantage of the situation The democrats propose to attempt to show that the republicans are paying the war debt by taxing the classes which include most of the consumers and which do not include the very rich The ramifications of this issue will include the republican attitude on the tariff and will also include an attack by the democrats on the federal reserve bounds management of the banking affairs of the country

This latter attack has in fact already begun The federal reserve board has been pursuing a policy of deflation which among other effects has the indirect result of tending to restore the dollar to somewhere near the purchasing power it had before the war Such a policy stated in the broadest sense favors those classes of the community whose property is in the shape of fixed interest bearing securities, like the owners of liberty bonds, railroad bonds, life insurance policies and the like

The democrats will attempt to show that the republicans are favoring creditor classes of the country as against the debtor classes It will probably turn out that the issues arising out of this policy will have a strong analogy to the greenback issue the resumption of specie payments issue and the free silver issue which determined the popular platforms in most of the elections for almost a generation following the civil war

The democratic leaders have their eyes not merely on the congressional elections of next year but on the next presidential election and on all elections for a decade to come About the future the democrats show increasing confidence They have pulled the affairs of their national committee into better shape and are doing aggressive work They have raised money and have come more near to paying off their debts than the republican national committee has

The row arising out of the effort made last spring to unseat Chairman George White is over and apparently has left no scars The fight was largely a contest for leadership and for dominance in the national committee between friends of Governor Cox on the one hand and William J McAdoo on the other That this kind of personal contest for leadership does not help any is now realized by the more serious democratic leaders and they are taking steps toward aggressive party management and organization, not in the interest of any potential candidate for the presidency but in the interest of the party as a whole

'JELLY BEAN' CASES ARE DISMISSED BY JUDGE CITY COURT

COURT ROOM FILLED AN HOUR BEFORE BEGINNING OF DALLAS CASE.

TWO ARE CHARGED WITH OBSTRUCTING SIDEWALK

Centre College Football Star and His Brother Defendants in City Court Case.

DALLAS, Aug 15—Gus King Center college football player and his brother Joe, were freed of charges of obstructing the sidewalk resisting an officer and using abusive language when the cases were dismissed by Judge Felix D Robertson in corporation court here shortly after noon today

Additional charges of using abusive language and assault and battery against Gus King, and using abusive language against his brother were postponed for trial until next Monday

So large had become the crowd by the time the trial started that it again became necessary to hold the hearing in the city hall auditorium as in the trial last week of eight young men including the King brothers, on a charge of disturbing the peace It was estimated that more than 700 people witnessed the trial

During argument on the charge of abusive language a spirited tilt developed between Defense Attorney Mike Lively and Bob Allen city prosecutor as to whether a prisoner had the right to curse an officer while under arrest It ended when Judge Robertson held that the law upholds a man in cursing an officer and dismissed the case He said however that personally he thought it cowardly for a man to abuse an officer who had arrested him

MORE THAN THREE HUNDRED UNABLE TO GAIN ADMITTANCE

DALLAS Aug 15—More than 300 persons were refused admittance to Judge Felix D Robertson's court room in corporation court here this morning when the case of Gus King Centre college football star, and his brother Joe charged with resisting an officer, obstructing the sidewalk and abusive language, was called for trial

The court room was filled to capacity an hour before the trial began and scores of people were forced to leave upon the announcement of Chief of Police Elmo Strait that only those who could find seats would be allowed to remain

The two young men members of a prominent family here, were among eight arrested last Monday night on a downtown street corner following an attack on a policeman when he ordered them to 'move on and stop loafing around on this corner The officer was said to have applied the term 'jelly beans in his command to clear the sidewalk

The youths stated that they were not loafing on the street but had just stepped over to the curb to speak to a friend in an automobile when the policeman accosted them

Six of the young men, charged with disturbing the peace were acquitted at their trial last week

Much interest has attended the hearings officials being compelled to hold the former trial in the city hall auditorium when it was found that the court room would not accommodate the many friends and relatives of the young men

Upon taking his seat on the bench this morning, Judge Robertson announced that any boisterous display of sentiment such as was expressed at the trial last week in favor of the defendants would be met with dismissal of every spectator from the court room

POLAND PROTESTS PROSPECTIVE DELAY IN UPPER SILESIA

By Associated Press

WARSAW, Aug 13—The Polish cabinet today decided to send a note to the allied governments declaring the postponement of a settlement of the Upper Silesian problem will do Poland irreparable harm The note will assert that turning the problem over to the council of the league of nations as decided upon by the allied supreme council, will delay indefinitely the installation of a permanent form of government in Upper Silesia and prolong the uncertainty uselessly

REACH DEADLOCK IN NEGOTIATIONS OVER RELIEF FOR RUSSIA

By Associated Press

RIGA LETVIA Aug 15—A deadlock was reached today in the negotiations relative to American relief for Russia's famine sufferers between the American relief administration and Maxim Litvinoff, acting on behalf of the soviet relief committee Action by Washington and Moscow will be necessary to decide the issue, it is declared

Whether the American relief administration will compromise on some of its usual methods and permit the soviets greater control of the personnel and distribution of American food than has been granted any other country has been put up to Herbert Hoover head of the relief administration, by Walter Lyman Brown European director of the administration

Litvinoff, it is understood will stand firm in his refusal to sign some of the American conditions unless ordered to do so by the Moscow government

WILL ADHERE TO THE CONDITIONS LAID DOWN

WASHINGTON Aug 15—Conditions laid down at Riga by the American relief administration for famine relief work in Russia will not be varied from the principle of American control of distribution in Russia Secretary Hoover said today Mr Hoover did not however regard the situation at Riga as a deadlock.

ABILENE, TEXAS Aug 15—A body identified as that of Conder Henry 57 was found on the banks of Catclaw creek just west of Abilene, late yesterday The man apparently had been dead about one week His former home was at Lubbock A small caliber rifle was said to have been found nearby and a wound was in the head Officers are investigating the case

BURCH-OBENCHAIN HEARING POSTPONED TO NEXT MONDAY

LOS ANGELES Aug 15—Arthur C Burch and Mrs Madelynne Obenchain arraigned today in the superior court here on an indictment charging the murder of J Belton Kennedy asked for an extension of time in which to plead They were granted until August 22

Mrs Obenchain appeared to be on the verge of collapse as she listened to the reading of the indictment, which charged she and Burch killed Kennedy her former sweetheart Burch displayed no emotion

Mrs Obenchain's former husband sat with her during theproceedings

As Burch entered the room Mrs Obenchain glanced casually in his direction and then looked away The eyes of the prisoners did not meet during the entire proceedings

OBENCHAIN APPEARS AS ATTORNEY FOR HIS WIFE

LOS ANGELES Aug 15—When Mrs Madelynne Obenchain is taken into court this morning to answer to a charge of murder involving the death here August 5 of J Belton Kennedy broker Ralph E Obenchain her former husband will be sitting at the counsel's table as her attorney

Mr Obenchain arrived in this city late yesterday and after a conference with the prisoner declared himself sure of his former wife's innocence

On the same train from the east also in response to a telegraphed request that he come here was the Rev William A Burch of Evanston Ills The churchman came to be at the side of his son Arthur C Burch friend of Mrs Obenchain and the dead man, also scheduled to be arranged on a murder charge

Arraignment will see the two principals in the case brought together for the first time since their incarceration Mrs Obenchain has been held since the night of the slaying in the presence of the man whom she said was her fiance Burch who is said to have rented an automobile tracks of which were found in the glen near the place of the shooting and who became involved in evidence supplied by witness before investigators was arrested in La Vegas Nev on his way east the day after the slooting

Mr Obenchain had little to say concerning his talk with his former wife He said he assured he of his determination to fight for her despite the fact he said that she had once turned from him to receive the love of the young broker who was slain and for whose death District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine expects her to stand trial

SUGGEST A REDUCTION IN RATE ON LIVESTOCK IN WESTERN TERRITORY

WASHINGTON Aug 15—Freight rates on livestock in western and mountain Pacific territory were found by the interstate commerce commission today to be not unjust and unreasonable, but the commission suggested to the railroads that present rates should be reduced voluntarily to 80 per cent of the present rates the reduction not to be less than 40 cents a 100 pounds Rates as suggested may be published to become effective on not less than five days notice the commission said

Emergency reductions granted last May still are in effect the commission said and there is nothing to show that they materially increased traffic or that present rates have appreciably reduced the movement of livestock which must be marketed as it matures

'There has been some reduction in movement since 1918 and 1919 when the movement was greatest,' the commission said, but for 1921 judging by the figures for the first four or five months it promises to equal or exceed that prior to the war

CONFIDENT OF MORE HARMONY BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR

TORONTO ONT, Aug 15—Belief that the movement of American capital toward a return to open shop conditions is on the wane was expressed by Matthew Woll, president of the Photo Engravers union in an address opening the union annual convention here today

He declared that the open shop movement together with the campaign for reduction of wages had 'materially intensified the present industrial depression He expressed confidence however that the near future would bring harmonious relations between employers and employes Both factions he said were at present sincere in their desire to cooperate toward evolving working agreements that would be fair in the light of changed conditions

Wage reductions he said could play but a small part in securing any understanding between the two parties as they involved the admission that remuneration of workers should fluctuate about the cost of living—a doctrine to which labor could not assent

ENGLAND IS FACING THE CRUCIAL PERIOD IN IRISH SITUATION

LETTERS MADE PUBLIC INDICATE A VIRTUAL DEADLOCK EXISTS.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS ARE ANXIOUSLY AWAITED

Not Considered That Door Has Been Closed to Further Negotiations.

By Associated Press

LONDON Aug 15—England today faced a crucial period in the negotiations looking to the establishment of peace in Ireland The action of the British government yesterday in making public letters exchanged between Prime Minister Lloyd George and Eamon de Valera Irish republican leader showed people that a virtual deadlock existed and although the door was declared to have been left open for further parleys it was apparent that the situation was one of considerable gravity

Reports from Dublin which might indicate what the Irish republicans would do to counter the unexpected move of the government in giving the correspondence to the press were anxiously awaited It appeared the next step should be made in that city as Mr Lloyd George literally laid his cards on the table yesterday and it seemed that Mr de Valera and his colleagues must meet the situation thus created

Whether they would issue a statement today or would wait until the opening of the Irish republican parliament tomorrow was uncertain The purpose of the precipitate action of the government in making public the British proposals and the demand of the Irish republicans had not been disclosed but it would appear that the prime minister sought to lay the Irish problem before the country on the eve of the meeting of Dail Eireann

Government Terms

The government terms were in brief as follows

Dominion status for Ireland with complete autonomy in internal matters but without tariff or trade restrictions between the states Ireland would maintain defense forces and police but her territorial forces would be kept within reasonable limits

Ireland would maintain her own postal system but would grant England air defense and communication facilities Ireland would have control of her own educational and industrial affairs but the British navy would maintain its hold on the seas around the island A share of the United Kingdom's debt would be issued to Ireland the exact amount to be fixed by arbitration

Mr de Valera in reply demanded full independence for Ireland and suggested a treaty of association with the British commonwealth group Treaties regarding trade and limitation of armaments were urged by the Irish republican chieftain together with mutual agreements as to railways and other communications The Ulster problem would be left to the Irish themselves for solution Mr de Valera declaring that the employment of force was not contemplated

Attitudes of Ulster.

The attitude of the Ulster government has been made plain to the making public at Belfast of a letter to Mr Lloyd George from Sir James Craig the Ulster premier Sir James expressed the loyalty of his government to the empire and reiterated his readiness to confer with Mr Lloyd George and the sinn fein as to some means of settling the Irish controversy but declared he would not support the sinn fein in what he described as a move to coerce the government to repudiate the Irish act and to press for wider powers Sir James said he would not interfere in any negotiations between the British government and the Irish republicans but would stand ready to cooperate on equal terms with southern Ireland in carrying out any agreement they reached

Most of the London newspapers in their comment on developments in the Irish situation this morning reflected the belief that the governments proposals offered a generous settlement of the controversy

INFORMAL MEETING HELD BY THE IRISH PARLIAMENT

By Associated Press

DUBLIN Aug 15—An informal meeting of the Irish republican parliament was the chief manifestation today of the activity observable in both sinn fein and Dublin Castle quarters as the result of the new turn in the Irish negotiations following disclosures in the correspondence between Mr Lloyd George and Eamonn de Valera

The meeting was held in the Mansion House at noon to give members an opportunity to become acquainted and exchange notes

Sir John Anderson under secretary for Ireland hurriedly returned to Dublin from Scotland where he has been on a holiday

He is represented as still believing that there is a probability of the sinn fein accepting the government's offer

The military element on the other hand is not so optimistic

It is credited with fearing that the truce is nearing an end

The optimists in the Dublin Castle body point out that if the republican cabinet had decided to see immediate rejection of the terms a one day session of the parliament would have been sufficient The call is for four days

Another factor pointed to is that many of the fighting men on the republican side have returned to civil employment

The castle officials believe the republican cabinet will propose a referendum

The pessimists meanwhile indicate their belief that the Dail Eireann will merely repeat Mr De Valera's letter in its reply to British premier

In the streets of Dublin the sinn fein expressions on the truce crisis Tuesday night are heard on the lips of some of the apparently lighter minded while the serious business and professional men are anxiously discussing the prospects.

REPUBLIC OF BARANYA HAS BEEN PROCLAIMED

By Associated Press

BELGRADE Aug 15—Magyar and Jugo Slav elements in southwestern Hungary held a monster meeting at Funfkirchen (Pecs) a hundred miles southwest of Budapest last night and it is reported here that the republic of Baranya (the name of the province of which Pecs is the capital) has been proclaimed with the presidency offered to Count Karolyi

ALEXANDER HOWAT CALLED BEFORE THE EXECUTIVE BOARD

LITTSBURG KANS Aug 15—Alexander Howat president of the Kansas miners union has been called before the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America meeting at Indianapolis The order for his appearance came from President John L Lewis and interrupted the striking campaign against the Kansas industrial court law which Howat is making in Kansas

It is understood Howat was called in connection with the investigation of the strike at the Dean Coal and Mining company's plant which has kept the plant idle for four months A committee of the international executive board made an investigation and differences between Howat and Lewis at that time several weeks ago adjusted attention in mining circles

The committee of the international executive board reported Lewis that the Dean strike was unlawful but the summoning of Howat before the board is the first official action taken by the international organization in connection with the Dean strike since the investigation

SAYS BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL AFFAIRS IN BAD CONDITION

WASHINGTON Aug 15—Business and financial conditions in states served by the tenth federal reserve bank Kansas City are deplorable due to high cost of production and distribution of agricultural products and prevailing low prices A L Ramsey chairman of the federal reserve bank at Kansas City told the interstate commerce commission today in hearings on freight rates on grain products and hay

The complaint against present rates was made by the Kansas state railroad commission joined in by 20 other states and various grain producers associations

Producers are unable to sell their products above the cost of production and distribution Mr Ramsey said Assets of the banks in that section are more nearly frozen solid than at any time in his experience with little prospect of improvement until another crop is produced and farmers able to realize a profit

Interest burdens of farmers in the territory have increased approximately 10 per cent the witness said

PLEAD NECESSITY FOR A REDUCTION IN GRAIN RATES

WASHINGTON Aug 15—Rate experts statisticians and economists were on hand today to testify in the five day hearing before the interstate commerce commission as to the necessity for reductions in freight rates on grain products and hay in the western states Twenty states through their railroad commissions have joined with organizations representing grain producers stock exchanges and grain exchanges as well as many western bankers in urging the reductions

PUEBLO IS TAKING FLOOD PRECAUTIONS

Score of Men Ready to Give Warning To Residents Along Fountain River.

PUEBLO COLO Aug 15—Scores of men were stationed along the banks of the Fountain river here early today prepared to warn residents of the river bottom region in the Grove section to leave their homes if the river swollen by heavy rains in the north goes higher

Railroad officials notified the police department shortly after midnight that the river had risen suddenly and all police officers were ordered to duty along the river banks

The Fountain has not overflowed here but in the stockyards district just below Pueblo the high water of the Fountain and Arkansas rivers has flooded the lowlands and caused some damage to crops

At 1 30 o'clock this morning Santa Fe railroad officials announced their bridge over the Fountain river east of Pueblo had been washed out and that all of their wires between Pueblo and the east were down

The Weather

West Texas: Tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy; probably showers in the Panhandle.

YOUTHFUL "KLAN" INVADES HOME IN SEARCH OF VICTIM

MOB OF BOYS STORM TENTH STREET HOME IN EFFORT TO "GET" SOMEBODY.

SOUGHT VENGEANCE FOR WHIPPING EARLIER IN DAY

Police Make 13 Arrests After House Is Entered—Intended Victim Is Not Injured.

The first radical outbreak of a Ku Klux Klan to take place in Wichita Falls was reported to the police early Sunday night when a motley mob of juveniles forty or fifty in number and ranging in age from 10 to 18 years stormed a Tenth street residence with the avowed intention of wreaking vengeance of a youth accused of whipping a smaller boy.

Prompt action by the police who responded to a riot call, reached the beleaguered fortress only after it had suffered material damage. The intended victim of the mob escaped with nothing more than a bad fright thereby saving the city from the ignominy of mob law holding sway within its confines.

According to stories told the police, a lad in his early teens made free use of a belt at a local swimming pool Sunday afternoon applying the leather to the hide of a smaller boy who had incurred his displeasure. What caused the rucus could not be learned but it was inconsequential so far as subsequent events were concerned. The youngster had been wronged he thirsted for revenge—and came very nearly getting it.

How he managed to enlist the services of the self-constituted klan will remain a mystery, but the fact remains that he did gather quite a crowd of sympathizers about him and that before they were dispersed by the police they had tracked mud throughout the home and broken a few small pieces of furniture.

Officers May and Blasingame responded to the call and arrested thirteen all that they could catch, of the offenders. They were turned over to Juvenile Officer Yates Monday morning.

ECONOMIC SITUATION IN EUROPE UNDERGOES BUT LITTLE CHANGE

WASHINGTON Aug 15—Economic conditions throughout Central and Southern Europe underwent but little change during the past month according to cabled summaries from abroad made public by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

The financial situation in Austria was reported as steadily growing worse with exports and imports both decreasing. Normal yields are expected however, from the crop this year.

Belgian exports and imports have increased greatly during the past six months according to a report from Brussels but while imports from the United States advanced about ten per cent, exports to this country decreased 25 per cent the commercial agent said.

Little improvement in economic conditions in Germany is evident according to Howard W. Adams at Berlin. Unemployment is decreasing he said but a crisis in the shipbuilding industry seems imminent. The potato and fodder crops were seriously damaged by drouth he added but grain has been little affected. The unfavorable financial status of Italy was noted in the report from Rome receipts of the government during the past fiscal year though 49 per cent better than the previous year being given as 16,000,000,000 lire below expenses.

Throughout Spain conditions in general were said to be satisfactory. Indications are that the wheat crop will be normal and though unemployment is growing industrial unrest is decreasing the agent at Madrid said. Many German Belgian and English branch houses and agencies have been opened in Spain during the past month, he declared but very little activity in the establishment of such branches of American business interests has been reported.

GOOD SHOWER FALLS HERE SUNDAY NIGHT VISITS WIDE SECTION

The long local dry rainfall Sunday night was welcomed by the entire city and reports are that from a half to three quarters inch of rainfall was recorded.

The storm was more or less local and no damage of any nature was reported in and near the city although an electrical storm of small proportions accompanied the rain.

The railroads report no damage done whatsoever. Dixon officials stated that the storm was local and only small showers were reported both ways on the line.

The Katy dispatcher stated that rain was reported all the way to Bergan Okla but that Wichita Falls received the greatest amount.

POINT BREEZE OIL FIRE HAS BEEN EXTINGUISHED

PHILADELPHIA Aug 15—The fire at Point Breeze oil works of the Atlantic Refining company in which five persons were killed and nearly a score injured was finally extinguished early today. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

Officials of the fire department expressed the belief the fire was caused by the backfiring of a motorcycle ridden by a workman over a gully where gasoline fumes from leaking pipes hung densely.

INCH AND A HALF RAIN WITHIN THIRTY MINUTES

DENISON TEXAS Aug 15—A heavy rainfall almost a cloudburst visited Denison and vicinity Sunday evening. Creeks were swollen as a result of the downpour but no damage was reported. An inch and a half rain fell within 30 minutes the city pumping station reported.

TOOTS AND CASPER—It Could Be Either

INNOCENT BUT SERVED TWO JAIL TERMS FOR CRIME

All England is interested in the pathetic case of Mrs. Rose J. Gooding of Littlehampton who has been released from Portsmouth prison, after serving more than eight months of two sentences for crimes of which she has just been proven innocent. Mrs Gooding who is the mother of two small children was sentenced to 14 months and 12 days on being convicted of writing libellous messages. She appealed and a decision was rendered against her. An investigation by Scotland Yard recently completed, proved that it would have been impossible for Mrs Gooding to have committed the offenses of which she had been convicted and sentenced. She was ordered released by the court of appeal in London.

BRITISH SURRENDER RAILROAD CONTROL

New Act Governing Transportation Becomes Operative Almost Immediately.

LONDON Aug 14—Government control of the British railways begun at the opening of the world war ceased last midnight. The stockholders of the railway companies during the last seven years have had their dividends guaranteed on a pre war basis.

The new act governing the future of the railroad administration becomes operative almost immediately. Under the act rates and fares will be fixed by a tribunal. Wages and labor conditions generally also will be in the hands of the tribunal.

MRS. KINZBACH SAYS SHE'S ENJOYING LIFE

Texas Woman Finds Relief from Troubles That Made Her Miserable for Years

I am not surprised that people praise Tanlac for it does exactly what they say it will do said Mrs Emma Kinzbach 3411 Lyon avenue Houston Texas.

Words can hardly describe how miserable I was for five years as I just suffered all the time from stomach troubles. I lived on the very lightest foods but still nothing agreed with me and I was miserable for hours after every meal. I had rheumatism in my shoulders and neck constantly and was so nervous I got little sleep at night and was worried and restless all day long. Both my husband and myself were very much alarmed over my condition which seemed to get worse instead of better no matter how much I tried to get relief.

I never will forget the night my husband brought home a bottle of Tanlac for that was the beginning of the end of my troubles. It benefited me in every way. I now eat meats vegetables and anything else I want without the slightest suffering afterwards. I have a good appetite and everything tastes good and I feel so fine all the time that I am enjoying life as I haven't in many a year.

I can tell from the way my clothes fit that I am gaining in weight right along and I feel so strong and full of pep and energy that my housework is just like play to me now. It is just beyond words for me to express my thanks for the relief Tanlac brought me. I just know it is the best medicine ever made and I hope everybody in Houston who suffers as I did will take it.

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Mills Drug store in Iowa by Taylor Drug store in Burkburnett by West End Drug Co and by all leading druggists—adv.

FIND BODY OF MAN LOST ON THE DESERT SOUTH OF PRESCOTT

PRESCOTT ARIZ Aug 15—The body of August Kaufman automobile tourist from Pasadena Cal missing since last Wednesday was found on the desert fifty miles west of Congress Junction forty miles south of here by Mojave county officers. The man had perished from thirst and exposure, the officers said.

Kaufman according to officers upon their return here left his wife and three children in their automobile Wednesday in search of water when he discovered their supply had run low.

Friday night when he had not returned his family still waited in the automobile and Lillian a three year old daughter died of exposure.

Kaufman wandered through the desert for about seventy two hours and covered approximately 60 miles in a zig-zag course before he finally collapsed according to officers. The body was found near Signal near the Yuma county line.

In his search Kaufman had passed within fifty yards of an artificial reservoir of water for sheep and cattle the officers said.

ANNUAL REUNION OF VETERANS TO BE AT HOLLIDAY THIS WEEK

Confederate veterans will hold their annual reunion Wednesday Thursday and Friday of this week on Holliday creek two miles south of Holliday and those in charge estimate that the attendance for the three days will reach over 5,000.

Judge George Alexander who has been in charge of the arrangements for the affair has secured the services of the Shrine band which will render a concert each afternoon and will play for the dances each evening. A large platform has been erected for the band and for the dances.

On Thursday afternoon local talent will put on a real for sure rodeo and many riders have already made application to enter.

The committee in charge has not announced the names of the speakers for the occasion but it was stated that several prominent citizens of the state will be in attendance to address the soldiers and their friends.

A restaurant will be on the grounds during the three days and will be in a position to serve all who attend.

Bill Hudson who has been with the Gulf Production company left Sunday for Galveston where he will spend a few weeks before going to Columbia Mo, where he will attend school.

I. W. Poage of Dallas is visiting his sister Mrs J. A. Deaton 910 Eleventh street.

Doctor and Mrs O. W. Wilson left Sunday for a ten days stay in Colorado Springs and Denver.

Youniss told me before we went in to Sunday school yesterday morning that her stummick was getting tuffer because the green apples and grapes she et Saturday did not hurt her at all she said that she could hear them grumbling at each other and telling each other to get over on their own side before she went to sleep but they didn't get mad about anything and start a fight like they did the other time I think she is funny to talk to a boy like that

Hattie and Maggie the mut which got fascinated on her leg so it wouldn't show if she wore a lo necker dress when she grows up did not come to Sunday school If women wear short dresses and roll their own like my unkle says I guess a whole lot of fascinations will show aft r all

We went out to the river fishing right after Sunday school so that I would not have to mind Annabel Lee I got my pole by sneaking through the manure hole of the barn We did not catch any fish or get any bites but we stuck our poles in the bank and went fishing My back is peeling and Peanuts gave me a piece of skin off of it almost as big as my hand I am not going to let any one peel it any more till next week and then maybe I can get it all off in one piece and when I am a grown I will send a warning to my aunt written in blood on human skin and I bet that will make her be sorry for some of the things she has done to me

The minister and his wife and Errick came over from chur h last night and my mother and aunt and the minister and his wife sang Gospel hums half the night I did not dare to pull Julie up till they stopped because their singing breaks his heart and makes him holler I went to bed early because Errick was walking post me and fell over one of my feet and grabbed the scarf off of the mantle and pulled everything down I get blamed for everything

Today it rained all day I got soaking wet taking the cows out and my mother sent for me to come right home and get dry and all of the fellas come to our barn and we had a circus with my arms and my mothers stockings for tights My tights was tight but my mothers was loose I was hanging by one toe and reaching Mars had a little limb when my toe slipped and that reminded me that I had not cleaned the barn for a long time and when our circus was over they all got busy and helped me and then we tried

I got behind the cows the ways we all run to the barn gate and had so fast the barn could not fall on them Nobody fell in it My aunt hollered for my mother to come out of the house and see what we were doing and tell her we was all little savages She ain't got no little boys of her own The little boys she ain't got are certainly lucky

My father said he would let me go to bed early so I wouldn't get romantism My grandfather tried to sing and my unkle says he has got some thing stuck in out

PRIVATE SHOWING OF "OVER THE HILL" IS GREATLY ENJOYED

About two score Wichitans were guests Sunday night of Manager Douglas at the Strand theater at a private showing of one of the years premier film productions Over the Hill which will appear at the Strand in September for an extended showing

If the production meets the same fate with the public as it did with those who saw it Sunday night its marked success is readily understood It is based on the famous poem Over the Hill to the Poorhouse and carries the message of that poem which is a challenge to sons and daughters everywhere In spite of the fact that it will be materially shortened without marring either its message or its artistry the production is one that keeps the watchers interest at the start and holds it intensely through its 12 reels that are required to complete the story

When it is presented here in September special orchestration will be provided and one purpose of Sunday night's showing was to give the orchestra a chance to familiarize itself with the score The opportunity to witness the film in advance was greatly appreciated by those who attended Sunday night

WHEN THE TREASURY GETS FAT AGAIN

The states needs are so great that the Houston Post sees little chance for the state treasury to get fat again, a phrase used by the Dallas News in connection with the movement to purchase a state park site in the Davis mountains. The Post says:

"The state is laying about as heavy a hand on business as business can stand. If anything, the toll there will have to be lightened.

"There is a possible $7,000,000 or $7,000,000 more a year to be had by levying the maximum ad valorem rate allowed by the constitution, but that sum would be more than absorbed the moment the people determined to care generously for its educational and eleemosynary institutions.

"By paring to the bone the ordinary running expenses of our inadequately equipped institutions every one of which is deficient in facilities to care for present demands upon them, the legislature is preparing an appalling program of expenditure for some other legislatures.

"If the states needs are to await the cessation of the federal drain upon its resources before the legislature would feel justified in increasing taxes it will be a long, long wait.

"In another year or two insane patients will be thronging the jails of Texas, because of the lack of room at the state hospitals for the insane.

"Two years hence the university and other institutions of higher education must cease to cure for the increasing demands upon them unless millions be expended upon plant and equipment.

"The common school needs are steadily increasing. The children will suffer neglect unless there are other millions forthcoming to increase the scholastic per capita.

"There is our well nigh junked prison system, which it seems must have to cost us $900,000 more out of the treasury. It will need more unless some policy be formulated that will enable it to be self supporting.

"It would be folly to look for materially higher prices for our farm products. The world is settling sharply down to bedrock, with no sign of an early boom that would make additional state taxes popular.

"If the maximum tax rate were in effect now the treasury would barely be supplied to pay the legitimate expenses of the government and properly maintain all institutions even without a building program to execute.

"Not only the park in the Davis mountains, what of the unfinished work of developing the San Jacinto battlefield park as it ought to be developed?

"What of the $2,000,000 or more that the state ought to appropriate for the San Jacinto Centennial in Houston several years hence?

"What of the $4,000,000 plant that the University needs?

"What about that West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college that the west is going to have or make trouble?

"When the Treasury Gets Fat Again, indeed."

OUGHT TO VETO REDISTRICTING BILL

It is reported that Governor Neff will veto the legislative redistricting bill because it will not become effective until 1924. It is to be hoped that he does. Such action on the governor's part would place the responsibility for the denial of the people of west Texas of their rights of representation where it belongs—upon members of the senate who are more intent upon the protection of their own selfish interests than they are in seeing the people of west Texas have their just rights.

If the governor will veto this measure it is pretty certain that the protest of west Texas against the selfishness of certain members of the legislature will be so mighty and loud that the governor will be warranted in calling a special session of the legislature to immediately give this section of the state its rights.

THEORY VS. THE FACT OF STARVATION.

No theory of government can stand before the fact of starvation. That is the reason why Lenine and Trotzky have agreed to "capitalism's" aid in feeding the starving people of Russia. Starvation is a wolf that is likely to devour those who stand in its way. That is the reason Lenine and Trotzky are ready to accept outside aid. They know that they and their regime are in danger. It is this rather than any sympathy with the starving that makes them ready to accept "capitalism's" aid.

NOT A BAD RECORD.

The legislature will adjourn Tuesday afternoon having done little else than having passed appropriation bills and a senatorial redistricting bill. While there are some who will criticise the legislature for having done so little the majority are glad that it did no more. It was necessary for the legislature to pass appropriation bills. It was an act of justice to pass a senatorial redistricting bill. Other legislation can well wait until the next regular session.

Whatever just criticism may be leveled against the legislature ought to be concerned with the appropriations it has voted and with the redistricting bill that was adopted. On the whole the appropriations appear to be economical and in this the legislature has obeyed the demand of the people. There is little to criticise in the redistricting bill that was passed except the clause that delays its becoming effective until 1924. This is so rank an injustice and is so plainly dictated by the selfish interests of certain members of the senate that it is hoped Governor Neff will veto it.

TEXAS' CENTENNIAL

The state legislature by resolution, has set apart November 10 for the observance throughout the state of the centennial anniversary of the founding of Texas. On November 10 one hundred years ago Stephen F. Austin established the first white settlement in what afterwards became the state of Texas.

Rotary Clubs throughout the state are reported to be preparing programs for this celebration. This is a very meritorious undertaking. The people of Texas cannot too well preserve the memory of its founders and the stirring events of its early history. It is the memory of great men and patriots and heroic undertakings.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

DISSENTS FROM WHITEWASH OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Editor The Times:

I note from the public press that the legislative investigating committee appointed to investigate graft in several departments of our state government have given all departments a clean bill of health. I know nothing of the governor's charges except in reference to certain over charges of traveling inspectors in the department of insurance while in Wichita Falls last spring. It seems that the investigating committee in a sense put their stamp of approval on the practice of some of these inspectors charging up to the people of Texas such bills for dining and passing bills including bills and incidentals which I believe averaged from $15 to $. per month per man because it was all turned in as room rent.

I am not familiar with the practice of the state departments in allowing expense accounts of their employes, but I do know it is not customary to charge up such things when traveling for private corporations or individuals. The traveler is expected to pay for laundry, cleaning, pressing etc. out of his own pocket. If it is customary and right to allow such charges to one squad of men traveling for the state then it is right to allow them to all state employes.

It would be nothing but right for me to ask the citizens, taxpayers, employes of the state the money they have paid out for laundry, cleaning, pressing etc.

The taxpayers of Texas do not expect the employes of the state were traveling in its behalf to eat at cheap joints and sleep at third class hotels but they do mind that only actual and legitimate traveling expenses be charged up to the state.

If the state had only a few traveling employes a little matter of $15 or $20 per month overcharge per man would not amount to much, but when the number of traveling representatives of the state run up into the hundreds such charges soon count up.

No wonder the traveling expenses of state employes have jumped from a few thousand dollars per year to [illegible] million. Such extravagance, if say I might, will be used to supplement the meager salaries of some country school teachers, likewise [illegible] who is trying to rear a family in a decent manner on his pay in [illegible].

UPT CLARK EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF INTEREST

ALBANY, TEXAS, Aug. 13—Editor The Times: As I was unable to answer all of the many communications which I received from the citizens of Wichita Falls relative to submitting three names for consideration in the appointment of a county juvenile officer, I wish to express through The Times my appreciation of the great interest manifested in securing a suitable officer for this work with our boys.

I wish to say further that I have carefully considered the many recommendations and applications that did not come too late, and that the expressed judgment of a number of representative citizens and will try to be influenced by it in the choice of the three persons whose names I submit.

There should be a close relation between the schools and the juvenile department of the county, and I wish to bespeak my continued cooperation for the welfare of our young people.

Sincerely yours,
UPT CLARK

HUMANISMS

Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY

One often wonders at the novelty euphony and other elements of lure that are wrapped up in the names of the actors and actresses who disport themselves on the stage where figures move but have no life.

There is Thalia Bira, for instance. Whence would you think came a name like that?

Well I have it direct from one who was in at the making of that name.

This young actress from Cincinnati then but sixteen was to be given her chance as vamping in one of those spectacles of the desert. The name her parents bestowed upon her did not appeal to the producers so two of their smart young men sat down to work the matter out.

"It's a desert play," said one to the other. "Now what does the desert suggest to you?"

"Death," said the second dramatically.

The first young man wrote it down. Then he spelled it backward. "Htaed!" It did not seem to mean much of anything. The transposition of these letters a bit however gave a name that sounded quite well. "Theda." It was recorded.

What else does the desert call to mind? came the query.

"Arab," responded the colorful one.

Spell it backward and you have Bira. Thela Bira. That's your name.

General George Barnett, formerly commandant of the marine corps remembers very vividly the first day of his arrival at the naval academy at Annapolis more than forty years ago. He remembers particularly the first meal which he ate in the mess hall of that institution. He remembers that there were many other boys who like him were dining for the first time under the rigid discipline of the naval school.

There was one youngster, for instance who industriously prepared for mastication a large sweet potato. He carved the peeling from this potato and reduced it to that palatable form where every morsel was ready for purposes of melting in the mouth. Then quite dexterously and without any injury to his person, he proceeded to his work with no other aid than the knife in his right hand.

No one said a word. In a few moments however, a procession of waiters began to file past the seat of this youngster, and each waiter brought a fork and deposited it by his plate. Soon there was an array of these aids to eating that provided a barrier like a barbed wire entanglement, which reached entirely around the plate of the offender.

Thus was he given a first example of the manner in which his government proceeds toward making a proper gentleman while at the same time producing a most skilled agent for conducting its wars.

Senator Henry Ashurst of Arizona, another of the contestants for the honors of being a leading student of history in congress now that Champ Clark is gone appears with an observation on presidents. All the holders of that high office he says with a very few exceptions like Washington and Grant have been presidents by accident. It might happen to almost anybody.

Editorial Echoes

Will Seat Newberry.

(Denison Herald.)

The senate committee on privileges and elections by a strict party vote recommends the seating of Truman H. Newberry of Michigan whose seat was contested by Henry Ford. It is to be expected that the same line up will be observed when the question comes before the senate and the republicans being in the majority will apply the second and last coat of whitewash.

The findings of the committee are not surprising. Indeed they have been foreshadowed ever since the Michigan court's judgment of conviction of Newberry was reversed by the supreme court. That fact despite the fact that the court in passing on the case did not question the righteousness of the verdict insofar as the facts developed on the trial were concerned but was governed by the law which held congress was without authority to enact through a technicality, therefore the defendant escaped imprisonment as a penalty for having corrupted the electorate and taking advantage of that technicality the republican members of the committee have given Newberry a clean bill of health.

The senate of course is the sole judge of the qualification of its own members. One presenting a certificate of election may be notoriously known as a reprobate, a moral pervert and a political scoundrel unworthy to be trusted for the price of a meal ticket and if the senate is so disposed it can seat him as an honored member of the highest law making body in the land. On the contrary it has the power to unseat or rather to deny a seat to one regularly elected and whose character is above reproach in every respect if it so minds. And it has happened in times past when the working majority demanded it that one so elected has been denied the seat to which he was entitled while it was given to another wholly unworthy.

The facts developed in the hearing before the committee disclose corrupt practices of the most scandalous nature. No attempt at denial of the improper use of funds was made and it was clearly shown that Newberry and his friends set out to buy his election cost what it may. They gave no regard to the law limiting the amount of money to be expended in senatorial elections and the testimony developed that not one barrel but several were tapped. Votes were bought at what ever price they could be obtained while workers, and their higher up chieftains were proven to be guilty of acts unfitting them for citizenship in any community, clearly and unmistakably the senatorship from Michigan was plunged into the floor and knocked off to the highest bidder who happened to be Truman H. Newberry.

The senate in fact all lawmaking bodies should be equally as jealous of their reputations as the judiciary. A judge who so elected was corruptly obtained would not be tolerated for an instant and yet legislators who make the laws the judges are to interpret and uphold think no more of themselves than to admit to membership association men who have run the entire gamut of vice and corruption presenting them as paragons of political virtue.

That is one of the curses of politics. It makes no difference to what depths of political degradation one has descended if he is a member of the organization and will vote with the machine on all questions though his soul be as scarlet he will be washed as white as snow. Newberry may make a good senator but we hardly think so considering the base degrees by which he ascended from naval commander to membership in the senate.

In Defense of Horse Shoes.

(Kansas City Star.)

Wichita City Mayor is agitated over the question whether horseshoe pitching is a fit sport for the business men of that thriving community to indulge in. They have been doing it in the face of the world right out in an open lot where citizen and tourist could see them at it, and have scorned to retire back of the barn where the more conservative opinion of Webb City thinks horseshoe pitching belongs.

This conservative opinion holds that horseshoe pitching is beneath the dignity of the Webb City business men that it is a hick sport and shows the town to be lacking in the proper metropolitan aspirations. The horseshoe pitchers are understood to have defended themselves spiritedly and as a consequence of the controversy the chamber of commerce is split wide open.

The Star feels a strong urge to take up for horseshoes. It would feel the same way if it saw apple pie attacked. Or doughnuts and cider. Or flapjacks and molasses. Horseshoe pitching is no more a hick institution than the Fourth of July. It may be homely but so is a rag carpet and when rag carpets went out something departed from the spirit of the fathers democracy that the nation could ill afford to lose. When this country turns its back on horseshoes it will be a dark day for free institutions.

Considered as a game merely it fulfills every requirement of sport. It calls for skill and judgment involves some hazard (players have been hit frequently when bending too close to watch a ringer) and the exercise it affords can hardly be equaled. The mental relaxation, too is just what the tired business man needs.

But it is not as a game that it calls for defense. We must regard it clearly as an institution, an American tradition a survival of a simpler age when America was still full of the milk of the constitution and the teaching of the fathers. As such we cannot afford to let it pass merely because it is a bit homely. Webb City should think of that. And obviously if horseshoes are to be pitched at all they should be pitched openly and fraulein. To do it behind the barn would be to cast a reflection on the game's respectability and honorable descent that would be worse than interdicting it altogether.

The Burden of Taxation

(Houston Post.)

With the prospect that the rural school bill which has passed into the senate is to become a law we may be thankful that at least the common school system of the state has not suffered at the hands of the legislature as the institutions of higher learning have.

Assuming that this bill will become a law it will be seen that Texas is not unmindful of the farmers. All during the session the proponents of the reduction of University and A. and M. salaries have stressed the general unprosperity of the farmers due to the precipitate fall of prices of farm products.

Of course the farmers have not suffered any more than any other class but possibly they are less able to adjust themselves to existing conditions and for larger the same reasons that have inflicted hardships upon other workers, viz. too much extravagance when prices of farm products were soaring to almost hitherto unheard of levels.

True thrifty farmers have enjoyed important advantages over city workers for they have cheaper food against the sometimes almost prohibitive prices in the case of the city worker.

With the addition of the $1,000,000 a year for rural schools to the $14.50 per capita to be allotted the 700,000 rural school children of Texas will have from the public treasury of the state about $11,000,000 a year, a sum exceeding what the farmers of Texas pay in state school and state ad valorem taxes.

In other words the farm population will receive back from the state treasury for the benefit of their children all the money they pay in taxes and more besides.

The city taxpayer, the corporations and other taxpayers will not fare so well for they not only pay more into the treasury but pay on much higher valuations. In addition they must pay the high local taxes and the exceedingly heavy federal taxes on personal incomes and business.

Harris county for instance will pay this year in round numbers about $1,500,000 for state and state school purposes, about $1,200,000 for county purposes, about $[illegible],000,000 in federal taxes to which will be added $4,000,000 municipal and other local taxes. Here is a little total of $11,700,000 for Houston and Harris county with no heavy agricultural interest as compared with many counties.

Dallas and Bexar will be hit quite as hard and Tarrant will not be far behind. Such counties as El Paso, Wichita and Jefferson will have a painful intimacy with the taxgatherers.

We mention these matters for the benefit of those who seem to think the farmer is suffering more than anybody else. They have their burdens and all of us sympathize with them but when it happens that they receive back from the state more than they pay in state and school taxes they may well look upon the plight of their city brethren and thank their stars.

The Coming Conference.

(El Paso Herald.)

Three years since the last shot was fired and still so little to show for the sacrifice, unless indeed one counts a prostrate Germany and the promise of some reparation is worth it.

We thought to have a real millennium by this time. But instead we have a depressed and distracted world. The Versailles treaty has turned out a treacherous peace, the league of nations flounders along in an ever weakening struggle for existence, a dozen smouldering fires of conflict threaten to break forth at any moment, famine and pestilence stalk forth with every putrid wind, crime increases, suicide grows popular, the people are manifestly more careless and discouraged than in the midst of real war.

One looks out with dismay and wonders if there is possibility of relief until the fever shall have run its course.

We imagined this 20th century intelligence would be able to avoid some of the consequences of old time strife. What folly! It is the same old story in the same old way—a moment of boom and false prosperity then collapse.

Not a nation in the world but especially those who were the brunt of battle but is worse off than in 1914 even if the physical losses are disregarded.

Not a nation but finds itself in the midst of crime and political unrest.

From every quarter of the globe come reports telling how murder, suicide, thievery and other offenses against peace and order are multiplying.

Three years ago the annual number of arrests in Great Britain were less than 30,000. Last year they exceeded 90,000.

Starvation and disease have ravaged central Europe for many months, leaping from district to district, from nation to nation. No one may tell where or when it can be checked.

It is all so different than we believed. Perhaps it is so different because we believed lightly. If we had not fed so glutt'nously on wishes and rainbow dreams we could have met the situation with more ease. That however is all buried with the past.

No one can look back over what has occurred without seeing that many peoples were victimized by illusion. Not that their ideals were wrong but by expecting the millennium to be approached if not realized with impossible speed.

Are we going to the next conference with similar fatuous hopes or are we going to measure the problems with clearer intelligence.

Armaments are of course but the expressions of human nature. It will not be enough to limit them. An agreement with this end in view would be a step in the right direction but only a step. Men have promised ways before and they can again so long as the disposition to fight remains.

The fact for us to tackle just now is that they have gone so far in the preparation and maintenance of fighting weapons as to threat a their own exhaustion. War has come to cost more in being ready for it than in actual presence. The world has enslaved itself to a vast mechanism of destruction which without any war would destroy the resourcefulness of nations. If we were to go on increasing the cost of our military establishments during the next two centuries as fast as we have during the last century we would be a bankrupt nation by 2121 and that too if we never fought a battle. The same is true of every other nation. Whether we can guard ourselves against the recurrence of war we can certainly obtain emancipation from this vast war machine which is sucking out our life blood.

If the coming conference accomplishes no more than to relieve nations from maintaining present dreadful establishments it will have rendered a worth while service. If we do not expect too much from it and do not mar it because of our expectations it may accomplish this.

The History of Your Name

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN

WEBSTER

Variations — Weber, Webber, Weaver.
Racial Origin—English; also German.
Source—An occupation.

Here is another family name which in one of its forms shows the influence of the medieval English method of forming the family name from a occupation, but which is now obsolete. It is most interesting too as showing a certain of its variations an absolutely parallel development in English and German.

Webster and Weaver are exclusively English forms of the name Weber and Webber are both English and German, and apparently also it is widespread in the language as the other.

All of these names descriptive of the occupations of the first bearers of them come from the same root in the old Teutonic tongue which is parent both to the modern German and to medieval English through the Anglo-Saxon. It is the same root from which we derive the modern English weave, weft and web as well as weave. Indeed the church and court records of medieval England show that the people of those days spoke of Roger le Weber rather than the Weaver. The spelling of the word into its form as it occurred only in comparatively modern times in England and not at all in German.

Webster is simply the medieval spelling of the name Weber. Under Norman French influence its ending ster was spelled stre instead of tre, and it is from this spelling with the addition of a t that the modern ending ster of Webster has been developed.

Texts of Communications On Irish Peace Proposals

DE VALERA'S COMMUNICATION TO PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON Aug 1[illegible]—On August 10 Eamonn de Valera addressed the following communication to Mr Lloyd George

Sir On the occasion of our last interview I gave it as my judgment that the Dail Eireann could not and the Irish people would not accept the proposals of your government set forth in draft July 20 Having consulted my colleagues and with them given these proposals most earnest consideration I now confirm that judgment

The outline given in the draft is self contradictory and the principle of the pact not easy to determine To the extent that it implies recognition of Ireland's separate nationhood and her right to self determination we appreciate and accept it

But in the stipulations and express conditions concerning vital matters the principle is strangely set aside and a claim advanced by your government to an interference in our affairs and to a control which we can not admit

Ireland's right to choose for herself the path she shall take to realize her own destiny must be accepted as indefensible It is a right that has been maintained through centuries of oppression at the cost of unparalleled sacrifices and untold suffering We cannot propose to abrogate it nor can Great Britain or any other foreign state or group of states claim to interfere with its exercise in order to serve their own special interests

Declaring that it is Ireland's desire to be free from imperialistic entanglements which will prove destructive of Irish ideals and be fruitful only of ruinous wars and crushing taxation Mr de Valera says

Like the small states of Europe the Irish people are prepared to hazard their independence on the basis of mere might confident that as the world threaten no nation or people they would in turn be free from aggression themselves

Asserting that this is the policy that Irishmen have declared for in all their elections after plebiscite, Mr de Valera continues

As well myself and colleagues our deep conviction is that true friendship with England which military coercion has frustrated for centuries can be achieved most readily now through a mutual but absolute separation The fear which we believe groundless that Irish territory may be used as the base for attacks upon England's liberties can be met by reasonable guarantees not inconsistent with Irish security

Mr de Valera declares that a dominion status for Ireland is illusory He says the freedom to the British dominions enjoys is less the result of legal enactments than of the immense distances which separate them from Great Britain and make interference [illegible] exploit [illegible] knowledge Mr de Valera continues [illegible] to secure [illegible] of free association [illegible] however [illegible] is made of any such [illegible]

The natural position is reversed [illegible] Great Britain is [illegible] dominions and restrictions [illegible] in the case of dominions To secure [illegible] must give military guarantees to the larger and offer [illegible] to be reduced to a [illegible] of helpless dependency

[illegible] we are unable to urge [illegible] based upon our [illegible] of free association [illegible] British commonwealth [illegible] with a political league of nations would have been reason to [illegible] a government to [illegible] responsibility for [illegible] that the entry of the [illegible] into such an association would [illegible] for it the allegiance [illegible] present [illegible] minority [illegible] these sentiments alone this step [illegible] contemplated

Treaties dealing with proposals for free inter trade and mutual limitation of armaments we are ready at any time to negotiate Also mutual agreements concerning air railway and other communications and generally for the smooth commercial intercourse essential to both nations But all such treaties and agreements we would request submitted for ratification, first to the national legislature and afterwards to the Irish people in a manner showing that their decision was a free decision and without any element of military compulsion

Mr de Valera offers to leave the question of Ireland's share of the national debt to arbitrators one each to be appointed by Ireland and Great Britain and the third chosen by agreement or nominated say by the president of the United States

He declares that the question between the political minority and the great majority of the Irish people must be left for the Irish people themselves to settle

'We cannot admit the right of the British government to mutilate our country either in its own interest or at the call of any section of our populations the letter continues

'We do not contemplate the employment of force if your government stands aside we can affect complete reconciliation We agree with you that no common action can be secured by force Our regret is that this wise and true principle which your government prescribes to us for the settlement of our local problems it seems unwilling to apply consistently to the fundamental problem of the relations between our island and yours

The principle we rely on in one case we are ready to apply to the other But should this principle not yield to immediate settlement we are willing that this question too should be submitted to external arbitration

Thus we are ready to meet you in all that is reasonable and just The responsibility for initiating and effecting an honorable peace rests primarily not with our government but with yours We have no conditions to impose, no claims to advance but the one that we be freed from aggression

'We reciprocate with a sincerity to be measured only by the terrible sufferings our people have undergone the desire you express for a mutual and lasting friendship The sole cause of the ancient feuds you deplore has been as history proves, the attacks of the English rulers upon Irish liberties These attacks can cease forthwith if your government has the will

'The road to peace and understanding lies open'

REPLY OF LLOYD GEORGE TO EAMONN DE VALERA

LONDON Aug 15—Mr Lloyd Georges reply which was dated August 13 was as follows

'The earlier part of your letter is so much opposed to our fundamental position that we are bound to leave you in no doubt of our meaning You state that after consulting your colleagues you confirm your declaration that our proposals are such as the Dail Eireann could not and the Irish people would not accept You call that the outline given by our draft is self contradictory and that the principle of the pact offered you is not easy to determine We desire therefore to make our position absolutely clear

Nothing is to be gained by pursuing the theoretical discussion of the national status which you may be willing to accept as compared with that of the great self governing dominions of the British commonwealth but we must direct your attention to one point on which you lay such emphasis and on which no British government can compromise namely the claim that we should acknowledge the right of Ireland to secede from her allegiance to the king

No such right can ever be acknowledged by us The geographical propinquity of Ireland to the British Isles is a fundamental fact The history of the two islands for many a century however it is read establishes that their destinies are indissolubly linked

Ireland has sent members to the British parliament for more than a hundred years Many of her people during all that time have served faithfully and served gallantly in the forces of the crown Great numbers in all the Irish provinces are proud to be attached to the throne

These facts permit of one answer and one only to the question that Great Britain should deal with Ireland as a separate and foreign power

When you as the chosen representatives of Irish nationalists met to speak with me I made on one occasion only of which our proposals plainly stated the effect—that Ireland should recognize the force of geographical and historical fact

It is those facts which have created the problems of the British Irish relationship If they did not exist there would be no problems to discuss I must therefore to the conditions which are imposed by these facts We set them forth in our proposals in six clauses in our former proposals and need not restate them here except to say that the British government cannot consent to the exercise of any such questions which concern Great Britain and Ireland alone to the arbitrament of a foreign power

We are profoundly glad to have your agreement that north east Ireland cannot be coerced This point is of great importance because we resolve that force shall not stand with full power any attempt at secession by one part of Ireland against the other part of Ireland to transfer its allegiance to the crown

We again give you the assurance that we will concur in any settlement with northern and northern Ireland may make for Irish unity within the six conditions already laid down which apply to southern and northern Ireland alike but we cannot agree to coerce the population of your relations with northern Ireland to foreign arbitration

The conditions of the proposed settlement do not arise from any desire to force our will upon the people of that province but from facts which are as vital to Ireland's welfare as to our own They contain no derogation from Ireland's status as a dominion no desire for British ascendancy over Ireland and no impairing of Ireland national ideals

[illegible] sent to the Irish [illegible] such as never [illegible] We [illegible] to accept them in [illegible] Ireland's discussion their [illegible] we [illegible] our acceptance [illegible] principle is communicated to

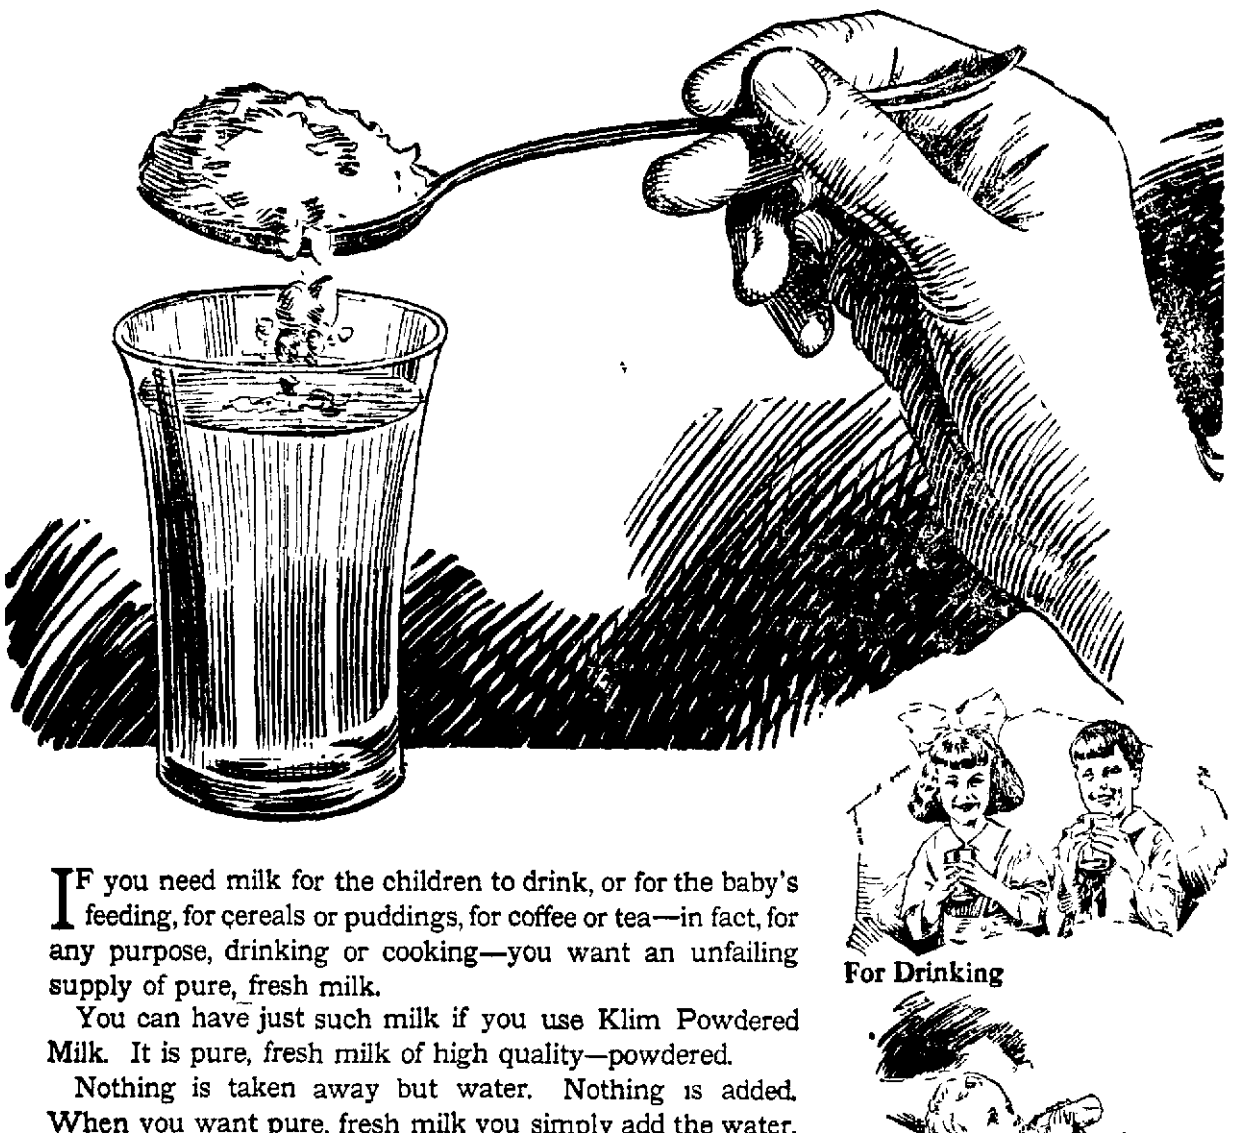
When You Need Milk



IF you need milk for the children to drink, or for the baby's feeding, for cereals or puddings, for coffee or tea—in fact, for any purpose, drinking or cooking—you want an unfailing supply of pure, fresh milk.

You can have just such milk if you use Klim Powdered Milk. It is pure, fresh milk of high quality—powdered.

Nothing is taken away but water. Nothing is added. When you want pure, fresh milk you simply add the water. Then Klim becomes liquid milk again. It tastes, looks, and smells like milk. For it is milk.

Klim needs no ice to keep it. While it is in powder form it is not affected by heat and cold; and it remains fresh for a long period. It is always on hand when more milk is needed, when unexpected guests arrive—or for any emergency.

Physicians, food experts, and scientists all endorse Klim unreservedly for every milk use.

Tex McDonald's Drive Breaks Up Hard Fought Battle in Last Round

By PAUL W. LARKIN.

Squire Salm's league leaders, led by some inspired playing on the part of Abe Bowman and Tex McDonald, snatched the final game of their home stay at Athletic Park out of the fire yesterday and made it four out of five of the "crucial series." The final count was 2 to 1 and as the score indicates it was by far the best game of the series. It was the kind of contest that is played in baseball stories when two rival colleges meet for the final game of the season, and the two Spudders mentioned played the parts usually given to the Merriwell brothers, or the corresponding heroes.

The hero, of course, might have waited to make his great play until about the twenty-fifth inning, or thereabout, but Tex is an impetuous athlete, and he won the game for the local clan in the ninth. There was no lack of thrills, however, in the way it was done. Until that tumultuous session Jack Harper, for Dallas, and Abe Bowman for Wichita Falls, had been going along neck and neck in as pretty a pitchers' battle as could be desired. In the second the visitors had picked up a run when Bowman became unsteady and served Palmer four wide ones and then grooved one for Chick Mattick when he crashed off the left field fence scoring Eddie who had reached second on Robertson's sacrifice. That was all until the last half of the ninth.

In this round the Spudders' board of strategy held an impromptu meeting and Bob Bescher, who is showing the rest of the Texas leaguers how to hit, went in to hit for Bowman. Bob inveigled Harper into tossing up four wide ones and this marked the beginning of the end. After another short meeting of the board it was decided to let "Smiley" Bischoff bat vice McElwee. All that was required of "Smiley" was that he put Bob on second, but he did more than that. He dumped a perfect slow roller down in the general direction of first base and reached the bag in safety while Harper was debating with himself whether or not he should field the ball. The buck was then passed to Buddy Tanner to push the men along and he did that little thing by dropping a perfect bunt in front of Galloway which put Bob on third and "Bisch" on second.

3,500 Fans In an Uproar.

By this time the 3,500 fans were in a frenzy. With the tying and winning runs on the sacks it was up to Tex to deliver. Tex has been doing that with uncanny regularity of late and yesterday was no exception. The first ball served him was fully a foot outside and the fans began to settle back and watch Harper throw three more in the same spot. They had it all figured out that Harper was going to pass him and take a chance on Danny Clark. Harper must have figured that Tex was looking for the same thing and that he would catch him asleep for he shot the next one straight down the alley. But Tex was very much awake. He caught the fast one squarely on the nose and drove it on a line to the most distant point in right field, giving Bob and "Smiley" ample time to tally. It was a fitting climax to a great game and a long home stay, and a more thoroughly happy crowd of fans never left the ball yard.

The rest of the story of the game is a story of pitchers. Harper, one of the best spit-ballists in the league, gave a clean cut performance until he cracked in the ninth. Up until this fatal canto he was complete master of the situation. He kept the Spudders at a safer distance than any other hurler has been able to do this year, and only one lonely bingle—a grounder by Tanner that hopped past Bobby Stow in the opening session—had been gleaned off him until the final inning. Any hurler that can silence the Spudder artillery to that extent is hurling some ball. Not a single Salmite reached first base in the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth or eighth innings. Until the ninth Tanner was the only man who had got on the paths—once in the first by virtue of his single and once in the seventh when Harper issued a pass. The Spudders didn't even come close in the other rounds.

Bowman Hurls Great Game.

On the other hand, Abe Bowman was twirling the game of his life. Like his rival, only three men faced him in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth rounds. In the first chapter Skinner crashed a single through Clark after two were out, but he went out a moment later when he ran into Galloway's bounder, the latter getting credit for a hit on the play. The second frame has already been described, and in the ninth, the only other session when more than three men faced Abe, Galloway connected for a lucky double when Griggs misjudged his long fly and barely reached the ball after a hard run.

The sluggers of both teams were soft for the opposing twirlers. The one run garnered by the visitors in the second session looked as big as a house until Bob Bescher drew his pass in the ninth and started to worry Harper. Put Abe had his one bad inning early in the game and pulled himself together before any serious damage was done. On the other hand, Harper blew up at the wrong time and there is no telling when the Spudders would have been put out after they once got started. The score:

Red Sox 3, Senators 0.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—Sam Jones held the Senators to four hits Sunday and Boston won by a score of 2 to 0. Erickson kept the Boston hits scattered save in two innings. Brilliant fielding by Melnnis featured.

Score by innings:	R. H. E
Boston	001 001 000—2 10 1
Washington	000 000 000—0 4 0

Batteries: Jones and Ruel; Acosta and Gharrity.

White Sox 4, Indians 1.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14—It was Red Faber's day Sunday and the sorrel-topped hurler of the Chicago White Sox had the Indians eating out of his hand, beating them 4 to 1. Incidentally, he moved them from the lead in the pennant race. The idle Yanks replaced them.

Score by innings:	R. H. E.
Chicago	200 110 000—4 12 1
Cleveland	000 010 000—1 5 0

Batteries: Faber and Schalk; Uhle, Caldwell and O'Neill.

Browns 7, Tigers 5.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14—The Browns made it four straight over Detroit Sunday by a 7 to 5 score, the six runs in the fourth holding them in good stead when the Tigers counted five times in the ninth. Sisler ran his hits to nine in succession, getting four out of four today with the five he made Saturday. Shocker was most effective for eight innings, but weakened miserably in the ninth.

Detroit	000 000 005—5 9 5
St. Louis	001 600 00x—7 9 2

Batteries: Oldham, Cole and Bassler, Shocker and Severeid.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT OF SPORT

—By Wood Cowan

Grey Lag, the Rancocas stable's 3-year-old colt, is looming up as the best stake winner developed this season. This horse was purchased last season for $50,000. He is a big chestnut, son of Star Shoot. Here is his record as a 2-year-old in 1920, and as a 3-year-old this season:

Starts	Won	2d.	3d.	Unp.	Amt.
1920	4	2	1	2	$[illegible]
1921	9	6	1	0	[illegible]
Totals	13	8	2	2	$[illegible]

As a 2-year-old he won the Clan Jagger stakes, the Remsen handicap and two overnight races. Finished third in the Futurity and second to Tryster in the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes at Louisville.

As a 3-year-old he has won the Belmont stakes, the Brooklyn handicap, the Withers stakes, the Empire City stakes, the Jerome handicap, the Metropolitan handicap, the Suburban handicap, the Kenner stakes and two overnight events. He finished second to Sir Barton in the Kentucky Derby, third in the Preakness and fourth in the Belmont.

BESCHER UNABLE TO LEAVE WITH SPUDDERS

Bob Hurts Leg Again In Last Marine Game—Team May Be Back Home Friday.

BOB BESCHER

Bob Bescher, the man who has probably done more than any other individual to put the Spudders at the top of the heap, was unable to leave with the club last night owing to his injured leg which has been bothering him for the past couple of weeks.

He was rushed into yesterday's fracas with the Marines in the final chapter to put the Spudders over the hump and as usual started a rally which proved the undoing of the opposition. But it was a costly victory. While rounding third on Tanner's sacrifice, the soft turf halted his mad dash and once again he knocked his ground cleaners for out. He was rushed to receive medical attention last night and though he was feeling much better today, he will be under a doctor's care for some time.

To say that his absence will be keenly felt is putting it mildly. To have the most dangerous man on the paths in the league, as well as the leaders leading hitter out of the lineup with the club fighting on the road to hold a four and a half game lead is enough to make any manager turn gray. Salm has been burning the wires the past few days in an effort to land an outfielder to take Bob's place, but he had received no favorable replies up to the time of departure last night. Bischoff will undoubtedly fill the gap until a new fielder arrives or until Bob is able to return.

"Smiler" is a slugger who deals misery to every hurler he faces, but he's not an outfielder nor is he in Bescher's class when it comes to running the bases. He'll give a good account of himself while he's in there, but he cannot be expected to fill Bob's shoes. It's a tough break, but no worse than some of the other clubs have sustained and the boys will pull through some way.

There's a possibility of the Beaumont and Houston series being transferred to Wichita Falls according to a statement given out by the Skipper last night. Neither one of these clubs are drawing well on their home lots and a shift would prove beneficial to both, as well as to the Spudders. If the transfer is made, the boys will be back home Friday for eight days. The schedule calls for four games with Houston in Houston from August 19 to 22, and four with the Exporters in Beaumont from August 23 to 26. A definite decision will be reached within the next few days.

BEARS 3-6, EXPORTERS 4-1

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 14—San Antonio and Beaumont divided a Sunday double header here today, the Exporters winning the first game 4 to 3 and losing the second 6 to 1. Brock's home run with the bases full in the first inning of the second game was the undoing of Leo Kraft, who essayed to do the iron man stunt.

Carpentier has been ill and he announced today that he would retire from the ring if he should win the world's light heavyweight championship of the world.

HAS AN INTERESTING BELIC OF THE CIVIL WAR

MANGUM, OKLA., Aug. 14—F. L. Morris of this city has a relic in his possession that is very interesting to the Masonic order and to the Knights of Pythias. It is a Masonic apron that was presented to his grandfather for service in the Civil war. The apron is elaborately ornamented and bears the stamp of a well known jewelry house. The apron was made in 1860 and is one of the first ever made by the house, not yet celebrated in London, New Haven and elsewhere.

The making of it possesses the highest range of talent among New World artisans.

CHARGES VIOLATION OF RULE IN FAILING TO REGISTER WELLS

VERNON, TEXAS, Aug. 15.—Almost without exception Wilbarger county oil well owners and operators have been violating a regulation in failing to register with the railroad commission certain acts so required by law, it is declaration was made here last week by W. F. Arnold, deputy supervisor of the oil and gas department of the railroad commission, state of Texas. Mr. Arnold, whose headquarters are at Electra, was in Vernon for the purpose of investigating local wells and to enforce certain laws.

Filing of necessary points is the point that has been generally overlooked by local operators. This is in regard to an intention to drill, to deepen a well, to plug, to shoot, to abandon, or upon completion of the well to file a log. This latter is necessary regardless of whether or not the hole is a producer. Few of these regulations have been observed locally, Mr. Arnold stated. A penalty not to exceed $5,000 is provided for violation of these provisions. Lease owners are fully as liable as operators under any of the causes mentioned. Action this time however will consist in warning operators of the provisions.

Mr. Arnold expressed the desire to cooperate to the fullest extent with any local operators or drillers. He believes the wildest operator is entitled to every consideration and stated that he is prepared to come here at any time upon the request of local oil men.

Mr. Arnold went upon a tour of inspection of county wells Saturday. His jurisdiction extends to any well, and he is privileged to examine operations, logs and all details at any time. The expert volunteered the belief that there is a rich structure in the county. He intimated that it is only a question of time and correct management of drilling operations until more oil is discovered.

ERNEST SCHUR GROWS FIRST WILBARGER COUNTY COTTON

VERNON, TEXAS, Aug. 15.—Ernest Schur, living six and one-half miles northeast of town, has won the honor of producing the first bale of cotton in Wilbarger county. Mr. Schur's bale weighed 515 pounds and the seed cotton 1,549 pounds. It was brought to town August 12 and ginned the next day. Thirteen cents a pound was paid for the product.

The cotton was of Acala and Mebane variety mixed and was mostly of long staple. Mr. Schur's first bale this summer is six weeks ahead of his first one last year. He expects to have more to gin this week and states that his neighbors will be ready as well. Cotton is in reasonably good shape in view of the fact that the county has been suffering from a drought, but a good rain would and materially in improving the crop.

The cotton ginned Saturday was planted April 3. Mr. Schur has lived in Wilbarger 18 years.

NATIONAL GUARD IS TO PROTECT A NEGRO THREATENED BY MOB

ANNISTON, ALA., Aug. 15.—Companies A and B, and two machine gun sections of the fourth Alabama infantry left Camp McClellan today for Birmingham, to accompany Clyde Thomas, negro, to Centerville, Ala., where he will be arraigned on a charge of murder in connection with the death of a farmer's daughter, who was slain near Randolph last Tuesday.

The girl, 14 years old, was said to have been attacked and choked to death. Feeling ran high following the slaying and nearly 100 negroes were detained but all were released after Thomas is alleged to have made a statement to the sheriff.

ASKS $200,000 TO DEFRAY EXPENSE OF DISARMAMENT MEET

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Harding asked congress today for $200,000 to defray expenses of the disarmament conference. ASK HABEAS CORPUS FOR THE SURRENDER OF AMBROSE SMALL

DES MOINES, IOWA, Aug. 15.—A writ of habeas corpus was asked in district court this afternoon by Chief of Police Saunders against John J. Bropphy and Frank Harty, private detectives, for the surrender of a man they say is Ambrose J. Small, Toronto theater owner, who has been missing since December, 1919.

Judge Utterback later said that he had granted the writ, returnable at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

GIVE LITTLE CREDENCE TO NEWS FROM DES MOINES

TORONTO, Aug. 15.—The Toronto police and relatives of Ambrose Small, missing Toronto theater owner, this afternoon still professed to be without official advice of discovery in Des Moines of a man of mystery believed to be Mr. Small. They also professed to give little credence to dispatches telling of the discovery.

MIAMI, OKLA., Aug. 15.—The Miami State bank, with a capital stock of $50,000, did not open for business today. A notice on the door stated that it was in the hands of the state bank examiner. Walter E. Lindsey, assistant cashier, authorized a brief statement that plans are under way for reopening the bank with no loss to any one except stockholders.

REOPEN THE QUESTION OF WHO FOUNDED ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 15.—The effort of the newly formed St. Louis Historical society to erect a group monument here to commemorate the founding of the city Feb. 15, 1764, with the suggestion that the central figure by Rene Auguste Chouteau, surrounded by a group of pioneers, including Laclede, has reopened the question as to who was the actual founder of this city. The question has not been discussed to any extent for more than a generation.

Chouteau heretofore had been regarded by many historians as Laclede's lieutenant. The story goes that Laclede, having decided from another port down the Mississippi river to establish a trading post here, which later was named St. Louis, sent the 14-year-old Chouteau at the head of a party to carry out his plans.

As its first activity the society had the inscription on Chouteau's tomb, showing the date of his birth as 1749, recut. This change was made to coincide with the records of the Missouri Historical society, which shows that if the date was correct, Chouteau's mother was only 7 years old at the time of his birth.

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 8 to 14 points owing to lower Liverpool cables than expected and less profit-taking of confirmed dull trade in Manchester. Liverpool was a moderate seller here and there was scattering liquidation but New Orleans bought on the opening decline and the market turned steady after the call on continued bullish crop reports from the southwest, with December fluctuating between 13.10 and 12.56, compared with 13.00 at the close of Saturday. Cable advices from Ghent, Belgium, reported an improved demand for yarns, which probably helped the tone of the cotton market here, including a local spot house estimate of the crop out in Texas as at only 50 per cent against 62 last month.

Trading remained very quiet later and fluctuations were comparatively narrow. Slight losses seemed to meet some scattered hedge selling as well as renewed realizing but there were buying orders on declines and the general tone of the market was steady around midday with December selling at 12.65 or within five points of Saturday's closing. Showers reported in the southwest were considered favorable but according to some of the outside reports from Texas were too late to help the crop.

No fresh trading features developed and the market was quiet during mid-afternoon, but steadied around 12.80 for December or within 2 points of Saturday's closing quotations and about 9 points above low level of the morning.

Cotton closed barely steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 15.—Prices rallied and a few gains in addition were made during the early trading today due to early selling of cotton by some leading bear houses. October rallied 10 to 12 points from Texas stated weather conditions, which were reported as damaging to open cotton, as well as downward movement and at the opening the first hour of the session, prices were about 5 points net higher than the lowest.

The market drifted into something approaching a deadlock, opinion being at conflict over the effect on the crop of rains reported falling in several sections of the belt. At 11 o'clock prices were six to seven points higher than the close of last week with October at 12.86.

For a while in early afternoon the market was very steady and prices came back to within two to three points of Saturday's close, but reports of hard rains in the Dallas territory caused a new selling wave and toward the close the trading months were 13 to 17 points under Saturday's close, with October off to 12.58.

Cotton closed steady at a net decline of 11 to 15 points.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Wheat showed considerable firmness in price today owing, in some degree, to a current estimate that the United States exportable surplus would not exceed 175 million bushels. Announcement that India's crop would be more than 125 million bushels short of last year's total was also a bullish factor. On the other hand, advances in prices here brought about increased offerings. Initial quotations, which varied from ¼c to ½c higher, with September $1.21¾ to $1.22 and December $1.26½ to $1.26¾, were followed by slight further gains and then something of a reaction.

Subsequently, smallness of country offerings had a tendency to unbalance values. The market close steady at the same as Saturday's finish to ½c higher, with September $1.21¾ to $1.21¾ and December $1.26¼ to $1.26¼.

Large receipts counted against upturns in the corn market. After opening unchanged, including September at 50¾c to 50¾c, prices fluctuated a little and then showed a disposition to sag.

Reports that Iowa and Nebraska farmers were showing less willingness to sell gave a little advantage later to the bulls. Prices closed steady at a shade to ½c net advance, with September 50¼c to 50¾c.

Oats, like corn, were weakened by liberal arrivals. The market opened to off to a like advance, September 23¾c and later went to low any level which had been touched this season by the September delivery.

Provisions found support.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Selling of selected industrials was renewed in the early stages of today's stock market session. New low records for the current movement were made by U. S. Rubber, common and first preferred, Central Leather, Old Centuries Can, these shares showing extreme declines of 1 to 4 points. Mexican Petroleum, Retail Stores, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, Studebaker, Anaconda and Goodrich also were lower by substantial fractions to one point. Among rails, especially the investment group, as represented by Great Northern and Union Pacific, a firmer trend was evident.

Shorts transferred their attention to obscure specialties at midday. Losses of more than nearly two points were sustained by Corn Products, California Packing, Allied Chemical, Bosch Magneto, Western Union and American Writing Paper preferred. New York Air Brake, Pressed Steel Car and Royal Dutch also reacted.

Rails of the better type were bid up 1 to 2 points later, but oils and industrials, notably Mexican Petroleum, Harvester and General Electric extended their losses. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 400,000 shares.

PREMIER BRIAND TO ATTEND CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Premier Briand, of France, has assured the United States government that he will personally attend the disarmament conference in Washington beginning November 11.

Announcement of the premier's intention was contained in a message to the state department today from Ambassador Herrick saying he had been informed by the foreign office that France had accepted the invitation to attend the conference and that the premier had assured him that he would "gladly" attend.

POTATO FLOUR CONTAINED LARGE PER CENT ARSENIC

LAREDO, TEXAS, Aug. 15.—Analysis by a San Antonio chemist of a sample of potato flour which was made into bread here yesterday and caused the death of a woman and three children, according to police, shows that it contained 96 per cent arsenic. It was reported in a telegram received from San Antonio by authorities here today.

Local dealers handling the product insist that the package containing one pound of potato flour was mixed with five pounds of wheat flour, according to directions received. In the making of the bread evidence is said to show the portion thought to have been potato flour was composed almost wholly of arsenic and when mixed with the bread contained one-sixth arsenic.

Authorities still are investigating the origin of the poison.

The funeral of John Beer, veteran locomotive engineer on the Denver, who died in Fort Worth Sunday, will be held from the residence of his brother, 1219 Twentieth street, Tuesday at 4:30 p. m.

GEORGE SIMMONS vs Wichita Great Western Underwriters, No. 16316—In the district court of Wichita county, Texas, 89th judicial district. On this day came on to be heard the petition of the Wichita Great Western Underwriters, suggesting to the court that order be entered providing pleas of intervention in the above case must be filed on or before the 1st day of October, 1921, and the court, having fully advised in the premises, is of opinion that said petition be granted. It is therefore, the opinion of the court that all parties holding claims against the Wichita Great Western Underwriters should be required to file their pleas of intervention on or before the 1st day of October, 1921, and it is therefore accordingly decreed that all parties holding claims against the Wichita Great Western Underwriters shall file said pleas of intervention on said claims on or before the 1st day of October, 1921, and not thereafter. P. A. Martin, Judge. 88-14tc

NO MYSTERY ABOUT BANK OF RED RIVER, JUDGE TELLS CLUB

A. H. CARRIGAN IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT MEETING OF KIWANIANS MONDAY.

SAYS TEN YEAR OLD BOY COULD LOCATE BOUNDARY

Nobody Would Have Bothered About It, Were It Not For Oil, Says Speaker.

"Had it not been for the fact that oil was found along the river bank there never would have been any controversy over the location of the south bank of the Red river, and right now any ten year old boy who has ever seen the stream could point out precisely the location of that bank."

With these statements Judge A. H. Carrigan closed an address on "Where Is the South Bank of the Red River?" delivered before the Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon in the Kemp hotel Monday noon. The speaker traced the controversy from the beginning, going back to the time of the Louisiana purchase when Livingston and Jefferson acquired the vast Louisiana territory from Napoleon, and outlining the steps by which boundaries were settled regarding the new land.

"The question started in 1819," he said, "when a treaty was entered into between the United States and Spain whereby the dividing lines between the newly acquired territory of this country and that land still held by Spain should be settled. By the terms of the purchase the Americans concluded that they had gained all of what is now Texas, but Spain, at that time, laid claim to a large portion of land west of the Mississippi river, and this treaty, agreed upon in 1819 and ratified in 1821, settled the boundary dispute of the two countries.

"This treaty decreed that the west bank of the Sabine river, the south bank of the Arkansas river and the Red river of the south should be the dividing lines between Spanish and United States territory, and although the Sabine and Arkansas banks were distinguished no such marks were established in regard to the Red river.

"Thus it came about that the controversy was possible, in that the old treaty had never definitely settled the question."

After thus explaining the manner by which the dispute was possible, the speaker cited cases which should have settled the question as to the location of the south bank.

"Courts have ruled time and again," he declared, "that the edge of the water during its average flow determines the bank of a stream, and in my opinion the supreme court of the United States will so rule when it finally passes on the case. Furthermore, a ten year old boy could determine where such a point was."

Judge Carrigan heavily scored the reports of government geologists who had surveyed the stream and reported that the south bank should be established as the Texas bluffs, which in some instances were two miles from the real bank of the river. He pointed out that only this section in Texas which was productive of oil was being disputed and that no other river banks not having financial opportunities had ever been made the object of such controversy. He made his statement regarding the oil discoveries having been responsible for the whole trouble and then characterized the "white business as being propaganda schemes started by white men who, following the now universal practice of grabbing all you can for nothing, wanted the property at the expense of some one else."

His talk was heartily enjoyed by the Kiwanians who responded with rounds of applause at the end.

Musical entertainment for the day was furnished by Prof. Frank Frederick, Leon, who rendered a brilliant piano selection and responded to an encore by playing some rag-time with variations.

Announcements regarding the district convention to be held in San Antonio next month were made by Julian Robb, following which the Kiwanians were informed that their president, Dr. H. M. Hoover, "had gone to Oklahoma to get married."

Dave Paul acted as chairman of the day and stressed the fact that next Monday was to be wives and sweethearts day, at which time each Kiwanian was entitled to bring either his storm and strife, his particular lady friend or, in the event neither of these were available, his stenographer.

The attendance prize, a case of Del-Monte peaches off red by Wylie Brown of the Goodner Grocery company, was won by C. E. Thames.

LIONS CLUB BEING ORGANIZED HERE BY FIELD DIRECTOR

Organization of a Lions club in this city is now in progress, under the leadership of R. L. McKinney of Dallas, field director. A number of Wichitans have been enrolled and it is probable that preliminary steps for permanent organization will be taken soon.

The Lions organization is international in scope, being somewhat similar to that of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. Lions clubs exist in more than 200 of the principal cities of the United States, and are active civic and social factors wherever found.

MANY APPEALS TO COUNTY FOR HELP ARE MADE BY NEEDY

Conditions among the poorer class in this city and county are pitiful and deplorable, according to a statement made by Judge J. P. Jones of the county court Monday.

Judge Jones stated that existing conditions were brought forcibly to his mind by happenings during the day. He stated that seven women, some with babes in their arms, appealed to him for help during the day.

The judge told that without a doubt the people were of the opinion that the commissioners court was in session and made it a point to visit him at that time. The court, however, did not convene Monday in lieu of the special session held Saturday afternoon when the regular weekly bills were allowed.

In each of the seven cases, Judge Jones stated that the women asked for assistance so that they could purchase groceries and necessities of life. Without a doubt some of the cases will be given attention by the court at the next week. In the meantime an investigation will be made.

"CLEANUP SQUAD" IS HEARING CLAIMS OF FORMER SOLDIERS

A number of local ex-service men responded Monday morning to the invitation of the federal "clean-up" squad which will be here until Tuesday noon to adjust matters pertaining to insurance, compensation, vocational training and other matters arising from the war.

Owing to the fact that no notice of the meeting was received until last Thursday, too late to give the publicity required, very few ex-service men from outside of this county attended the conference Monday morning. It was thought that others might report Monday afternoon and Tuesday.

In the "squad" are Dr. W. O. Stephenson of Dallas, medical examiner, R. E. Wardell, vocational educational bureau; William G. Doonan, examiner for compensation and insurance claims; Tom Neal, Red Cross representative; R. E. Laure, publicity agent.

DRUNK YOUTHS GIVE OFFICERS HARD RUN BEFORE CHASE ENDS

Fines aggregating $70 were imposed on four youths arrested on charges of being drunk and disturbing the peace Sunday night when they were arraigned before Police Judge Ogle Monday morning.

The quartette was taken into custody by Detective Dave May after a spirited chase of six or eight blocks through the residence section of the city, a chase which came very close to having a tragic ending when the small car in which the pursued were riding skidded within six inches of the edge of a 15-foot drop at Bluff and Seventh streets.

Two of the boys were dead drunk, while the other two, one of whom was driving, were slightly under the influence of liquor. They had stopped to fix a flat tire in front of a Harrison street residence and the profane language used in that operation roused the residents of the section to action. The police were summoned and after a search for the car which had moved away before the arrival, located it on Tenth street.

The chase followed and terminated at Sixth and Bluff when the boys stopped after a careening flight down the steep hill between Sixth and Seventh.

The two accused of being drunk were fined $25 each and remanded to jail until the fines were paid, while the other two drew $10 each. City Attorney Mann recommended $50 fines for each of the four and an additional penalty of a jail sentence until they told where the whiskey was obtained.

ORDERS RELEASE OF ARCHER COUNTY MAN, WHO IS HELD SANE

August Mahler, who was transferred to the Wichita county jail from Archer City several days ago, was released from jail by Judge Ed Napier of the 78th district court following a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus.

Mahler was placed under detention by the sheriff of Archer county upon complaint and information that the man was of unsound mind.

A corps of witnesses, friends, neighbors and acquaintances took the stand and testified that they had never heard the man utter a word or never saw him do an act that would lead them to believe that the man was of unsound mind.

City Briefs

Rev. W. L. Tittle, pastor of Floral Heights Methodist church, has just returned from Shawnee, Okla., where he attended the funeral of his brother, E. W. Tittle, who had been in failing health for some time. Mr. Tittle spent two days in Oklahoma City on the return trip. His pulpit was filled yesterday by the assistant pastor, Rev. C. B. Garrett, at the morning hour, and by P. B. Cox, who made a lay-address at night.

Bert Broday, superintendent of the Humble Oil Refining Co., has left for Colorado Springs, where he will join his family.

Assistant Chief Henry Smith of the central fire station left Saturday morning on a three weeks' auto tour to Mexico.

S. A. L. Morgan has returned after a tour of the 13th congressional district in the interest of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for congress in 1922.

E. S. Whitelaw and family have returned after a trip to Memphis and Brownsville, Tenn. They were gone about seven weeks making the trip in an automobile.

Tom McKinney, of the Roxana Petroleum Co. at Graham, spent the week end in this city.

B. B. Bates of Dallas is here visiting his brother, Marshall Bates, of the Humble Oil Refining Co.

C. F. Sweeney of the Texas company has returned after a two weeks' visit with his parents at Bradford, Pa.

Mrs. Otis Haynie, Mrs. F. H. Nichols and Otis Haynie left Monday for Prescott, Ark., for a visit with relatives in that state.

Mrs. J. A. Gardner and daughter Nell of this city and Mrs. Edwina Guynemer of Shreveport, La., leave Tuesday for Colorado Springs for a month's stay.

Ben Thompson and James Maxwell, Jr., of the engineering department for the Gulf company, left Monday for Graham and Stevens county.

OKLAHOMA HEARINGS IN BOUNDARY CASE NOW IN PROGRESS

Taking of testimony in the Red river boundary case was scheduled to begin Monday afternoon at Hollis, Okla., when Special Master in Chancery R. G. Tyler opened the first of the series of "county seat" hearings at that point.

Similar hearings are scheduled this week at Altus, Frederick and Walters, and are expected to develop much important information on the boundary controversy.

Judge A. H. Carrigan, who is most actively interested, among local attorneys, in the boundary case, will go to Altus Tuesday and also expects to attend the Frederick and Walters hearings.
